GAGE—THE FIRST DESTINATION IN SPEED

No, “Gage” isn’t a typo or misspelling—it’s an intentional. On Gage Avenue—3633 to be exact—in the town of Bell, just outside Los Angeles is the site of what’s widely regarded as the world’s first automotive speed shop. “Bell Auto Parts” read the sign on the roof, with the words “Racing Equipment” slung over the door. It’s where people went when they wanted to go fast...and if that sounds like something you’re into—going fast—we humbly suggest Gage is where you should go too.
